Art Unit: 2154

Art Rejections:

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

2. Claims 1-3 and 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Chan, U.S. pat. No. 6,885,641.

Per claims 1, 5 and 8-9, Chan discloses a system and method for monitoring network performance comprising:

a) determining a route time for a message transmitted along a predetermined network route (see col 22, lines 29-34);

b) determining at least one queue residency time, the at least one queue residency time reflecting an amount of time at least one other message is stored in at least one respective queue located along the predetermined network route (see col 22, lines 39-41); and

c) calculating a middleware response time according to the route time and the at least one queue residency time (see col 22, lines 58-61).

Per claims 2-3 and 6-7, Chan teaches determining the route time includes determining the route trip times for one or more user-defined packets using time stamps recorded on the packet headers (see col 24, lines 57-67).

Allowable Subject Matter:

3. Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion:

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Viet Vu whose telephone number is 571-272-3977. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday from 7:00am to 4:00pm. The Group general information number is 571-272-2100. The Group fax number is 571-273-8300.
